Cyber Jungle Field Trip

A guided safari into the New USPTO Website

Have you found yourself lost in the Recently Reconstructed USPTO Website? Do you sometimes feel like you have been left in the jungle all alone, with no one to help you or guide you to the information you need to survive?

Then you must make every effort to come to the 6th floor of the Main Branch of the Broward County Library (100 S. Andrews Ave. Fort Lauderdale, FL 33301) At 1:00 pm on Saturday August 7th to hear our fearless US Depository Library Representative, Eileen Fischlschweiger take you on a guided safari the likes of which you have never experienced before.

You will be amazed at all the information available to you such as:

- Searching patents and published applications
- Public PAIR (Patent Application Information Retrieval) where you can read all of the inside communications between the inventor and the examiner
- The Electronic Business Center
- The NEW Director's Blog where your voice can be heard by those who count.
- The NEW electronic Newsletter for people like us called the Inventors Eye.
- And much more!

You WILL be enchanted by this valuable resource and Eileen is one of the most knowledgeable people I know regarding it.

If time permits Ms. Fischlschweiger may touch on some of the new programs instituted by the USPTO for our benefit.
